Historical Information

National dendrological park "Sofiyivka" is a masterpiece of world landscape gardening art of the end of XVIII-th and the beginning of XIX-th centuries.

The area of the park is 168,9 hectares. It was founded in 1796 by a rich Polish magnate Stanislaw Schensnyi Potockyi in honor of his beautiful wife Sofia (she was Greek by origin).

The park was presented to her on her birthday, 1802.

The author of the project of "Sofiyivka" both topographic and architectural was a talented Polish artillery engineer Ludwig Metzler. The creators of the park were S. Potocki serves.

In 1832 the park was handed over to Kyiv state chamber.

From 1836 to 1859 the park was under the jurisdiction of the Department of military settlements. A new name of the park appeared in the literature, namely Tsarina's Garden (Queen's Garden); there no official documents its renaming though.

An academician of architecture A. Shtakenshneider was invited to the park. It was a flourishing period of the park.

In 1859 according to the tsar's decree the park was given to the Main School of Horticulture and it got the name "Uman garden of the Main School of Horticulture". V.V.Pashkevich created the so-called English park.

After the revolution and Civil War in 1923 the Park got a new name; it was named after the 3-rd International

From 1929 to 1955 according to the Resolution of People's committee of the UkrSSR № 26/630 of 18.05.29 "Sofiyivka" became the reserve (the park was called a garden of the 3rd International from 1923). The park got its independent status and till 1955 it was subordinated to various departments.

During this period small architectural forms, a road-alley system and several statues in the park were repaired and restored. The inventory of woody and shrub species was done, scientific works about the history of the park, its dendroflora and statues, small architectural forms were published.

In 1955 according to resolution of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine №1184 a dendroreserve "Sofiyivka" was transferred to the system of the Academy of Science of Ukraine and was subordinated in its research work to the Central Botanical Garden of Ukraine's NAS.

In 1991 "Sofiyivka" has been given the status of independent institution of the National Academy of Science of Ukraine. A lot has been done concerning restoration, reconstruction, renewal and widening the territory of the park.

In 1995 "Sofiyivka" was awarded with a medal, a diploma and bas-relief board by the international organization "Europa-Nostra" for a tremendous work done for improving and maintaining the park in a very good shape.

"Sofiyivka" is known in the Universe: in 1984 a small planet № 2259 got the name "Sofiyivka" in honor of Uman park.

In September 1996 "Sofiyivka" celebrated the 200th anniversary of its foundation.

In the western part of the park the new entrance zone was organized, the laboratory-research building and a lot of other objects were built.

"Sofiyivka" is charmingly beautiful.
